

Quintus of Smyrna's Posthomerica

Writing Homer Under Rome

Edited by
Silvio Bär,
Emma Greensmith
and Leyla Ozbek

Quintus of Smyrna's Posthomerica Writing Homer Under Rome

Edited by Silvio Bär, Emma Greensmith and Leyla Ozbek

Offers a literary and cultural-historical analysis of the *Posthomerica

- Connects Quintus with a wide range of ancient literature: historical, philosophical, dramatic, and rhetorical genres; and prosaic and poetic works.
- Moves away from the localized study of particular aspects of the poem to a joined-up understanding of this era of epic, as a corpus engaging dialogically with issues of empire, literary inheritance and cultural change.
- Intersects with the growing field of study of Late Antique literature, and the burgeoning interest in imperial Greek poetry and its accounts of the sack of Troy — a story which continues to resonate in scholarly and public discourse.

Hardback £95.00 | $125.00 January 2022 448 pages
ISBN: 9781474493581 Also available in ebook

Launch discount: save 30%

Visit <https://edinburghuniversitypress.com/book/9781474493581> and use the discount code NEW30

EDINBURGH
University Press