Instructions to Authors

Manuscripts and books for review in the journal should be sent to the Editor, ACTA ORIENTALIA, Professor Ruth Schmidt, University of Oslo, Dept. of Culture Studies and Oriental Languages, P.O. Box 1010 Blindern, NO-0315 Oslo, Norway. Email: r.l.schmidt@ikos.uio.no. Manuscripts should be submitted in English, German or French on a diskette together with a clear computer printout, double-spaced, on one side of the paper only with wide margins. Electronic submissions by email are accepted if accompanied by an error-free PDF file. Both PC and Macintosh (OSX) submissions can be accommodated, and the preferred word processor is MS Word.

All graphs, drawings or photographs are to be referred to as Figures and should be numbered in sequence with Arabic numerals. Each figure should be identified with the figure number on the back and the orientation indicated. In the text, its approximate location should be indicated by a circled marginal note. Captions to figures should be printed consecutively on a separate page at the end of the paper.

Tables should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals and attention given to the dimensions of the printed page (10.8 x 17.5 cm). If submitted on separate sheets, the approximate location in the text should be indicated by a circled marginal note.

For further detailed information about graphs, drawings, photographs, tables or columns, please query the editor, preferably by email.

The simplest and best way to represent non-European characters and phonetic transcription is by using a Unicode font. A clear computer printout will be needed to check that the correct characters have appeared. If such characters are to be represented by a non-Unicode font, please query the editor in advance for submission details.

References in the text should quote the last name(s) of the author(s) and the year of publication. Three or more authors should be referred to as, for example, Brown et al. (1996). A list of references should be given at the end of the paper. The arrangement of the references should be alphabetical by author's surname. The order of the items in each reference should be: surname of author followed by initials, year of publication, title of book italicized and written in full and followed by volume or edition number and number of pages, followed by publisher and place of publication. When articles in journals are cited, the name of the journal should be italicized and followed by volume and number and finally the page numbers.

Footnotes should be indicated in the text by consecutive numbers and arranged as footnotes, i.e., at the end of each page, numbered in sequence with Arabic numbers.

Proofs will be sent to the author for careful checking and correction. Only minor changes in the original manuscript are allowed without extra costs, and only in the galley proofs. The original manuscript will not accompany the proofs. The author should mark all errors clearly in the proofs, and the proofs should be returned to ACTA ORIENTALIA within one week.

Authors of articles will receive a copy of Acta Orientalia and 15 reprints free of charge. Authors of reviews will receive a copy of Acta Orientalia free of charge.
