

Curriculum Vitae

(abridged)

Hanna Havnevik (b. 1957 in Norway).

Employment:

- Associate Professor, Department of Culture Studies and Oriental Languages, University of Oslo (since 2002)
- Post Doc. Research Fellow, University of Oslo, 2000-2002
- Research fellow, and teaching assignments, University of Oslo, 1991-1999
- Consultant for refugees and immigrants A-etat, 1987-1991

Education:

- Dr. Philos., University of Oslo, 1999.
- Pedagogical Seminar, University of Oslo, 1988.
- Mag. Art., University of Oslo (research degree), 1986.
- BA, University of Oslo (Social Anthropology, History and History of Religion), 1981.
- Blue Mountain Community College, USA, 1976-77
- Repeated fieldwork in the Himalayas, Tibet and Mongolia (since 1983).

Nominations/appointments:

- Network for University Co-operation Tibet-Norway, Chair and leader of Working Group (since 2003).
- International Association for Tibetan Studies, board member (since 2003).
- The Oslo Coalition on Freedom of Religion or Belief, member of work group on China (since 2007), board member (since 2009).
- PluRel (Religion in pluralistic societies, Inter-facultary research program, University of Oslo), board member (since 2009).

Research projects (ongoing):

- Cultural histories of meditation. Practice and interpretation in a global perspective. (Project leader Prof. Halvor Eifring, UiO)
- Women's Oral Biography in the Himalayas and Tibet (with researchers from Tibet University and The Royal University of Bhutan)
- Revitalization of Buddhism in Mongolia after 1990 (with Dr. Bareja-Starzynska, University of Warsaw and Mongol researchers)

Selected publications:

Havnevik, Hanna. "Bokkult i buddhismen. Buddhistiske teksters magiske og rituelle funksjoner i Tibet, Mongolia og Himalaya." I Bjarne Rogan og Saphinaz-Amal Naguib (red.). Materiell kultur og kulturens materialitet. (forthcoming)

Havnevik, Hanna and Agata Bareja-Starzynska. Revival of Buddhism in Mongolia after 1990. Warsaw: University of Warsaw Press (forthcoming)

Havnevik, Hanna. "Drapchi Lhamo: The Construction of a Fortune Cult in Lhasa." Paper given at 11th Seminar of the International Association for Tibetan Studies, Bonn 2006. (In press).

Havnevik, Hanna. "Buddhismen." I Ken Opprann. Tro. Oslo: Font Forlag, 2009.

Havnevik, Hanna, Byambaa Ragchaa, and Agata Bareja-Starzynska. "Some Practices of the Buddhist Red Tradition in Contemporary Mongolia. In The Mongolia-Tibet Interface: Opening New Research Terrains in Inner Asia. Leiden: Brill 2007.

Havnevik, Hanna and Agata Bareja-Starzynska. "A Preliminary Survey of Buddhism in Present-day Mongolia." In Ole Bruun og Li Narangoa (eds.). Mongolia: From City to Country. London: Curzon Press, 2006.

Havnevik, Hanna and Janet Gyatso (eds.). Women in Tibet, Past and Present. London: Hurst and Company and New York: Columbia University Press, 2005.

Havnevik, Hanna. "Ani Lochen; A Yogini and Nun from Tibet." In Lindsay Jones (ed. in chief). Encyclopedia of Religion. Macmillan Publishers Ltd., 2005.

Havnevik, Hanna. "A Tibetan Female State Oracle." In Henk Blezer (ed.). Religion and Secular Culture in Tibet. Leiden: Brill, 2002.

Havnevik, Hanna. "The Monastic Quest: A Biographical Example (Tibet): The Biography of a Nun." In Frank E. Reynolds and Jason A. Carbine (eds.). The Life of Buddhism. University of California Press, 2000.

Havnevik, Hanna (1999) "The Life of Jestun Lochen Rinpoche (1865-1951) as Told in Her Autobiography." Acta Humaniora, Faculty of Arts, University of Oslo. Dissertation for the degree Dr. philos. 1999 (2 vols.)

Havnevik, Hanna. "On Pilgrimage for Forty Years in the Himalayas. The Female Lama Jetsun Lochen Rinpoche's (1865-1951) Quest for Sacred Sites." In Alex McKay (ed.). Pilgrimage in Tibet. Richmond: Curzon Press, 1998.

Havnevik, Hanna Combats des nonnes tibétaines, Religieuses bouddhistes du Pays des neiges. St. Michel en l'Herm: Editions Dharma, 1995. (translated, revised and updated edition of Tibetan Buddhist Nuns: History, Cultural Norms and Social Reality. Oslo: Norwegian University Press, 1989).