

Seminar and reception in celebration of
Inger Moen's 70th birthday

The Norwegian Academy of Science and Letters, Drammensveien 78

October 29th, 2010

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 10.45-11.00 | Coffee |
| 11.00-11.30 | Opening of the seminar by Øivind Andersen, General Secretary of the Norwegian Academy of Science and Letters and The Research Group in Clinical Linguistics and Language Acquisition |
| 11.30-12.00 | Professor William Hardcastle, Edinburgh:
"EPG as a clinical and research tool: highlights from the first 40 years" |
| 12.00-12.30 | Professor Tatiana Chernigovskaya, St. Petersburg:
"Give me the glass, and therein will I read (W. Shakespeare: Richard II, Act 4, Scene 1): Brain and Mind, what we know now" |
| 12.30-13.00 | Professor Roelien Bastiaanse, Groningen
"Why is the past so difficult to handle and the future so easy? A study of time reference in aphasia" |
| 13.15-15.00 | Reception |

The Research Group in Clinical Linguistics and Language Acquisition
Department of Linguistics and Scandinavian Studies, University of Oslo